

Vincent C. Hascall, Head Of U.N. Regents, Dies Of Heart Attack

Prominent Omaha Attorney, Civic Leader, Is Fatally Stricken Here

Vincent C. "Stub" Hascall, 59, Omaha attorney and president of the University of Nebraska board of regents, died at a Lincoln hospital at 9:55 a. m. Wednesday.

Death followed a second heart attack at approximately 5 a. m. He had been taken to the hospital Monday afternoon after suffering a heart attack while in Lincoln to attend the university charter day banquet of the local alumni club.

Funeral services will be held in Omaha at the Burket chapel. Mr. Hascall is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Bittner of Omaha; his father, Morris Thomas Hascall of Buffalo, Wyo.; and a sister, Mrs. R. C. Kirkland, also of Buffalo, Wyo.

Hascall was born in Ogden, Utah, on Jan. 19, 1888. He attended North Platte high school and the University of Nebraska, receiving his LLD in 1912. While in the university, Hascall lettered in football in 1907-09, and was president of the N club. He served as president of the University of Nebraska Alumni association in 1938. He married Dawnie Dale Pugh on Nov. 27, 1914, in Topeka, Kas.

Standard Oil Tax Supervisor.

From 1914 to 1918, Hascall served as municipal judge, and practiced law in Omaha from 1917 to 1919 with Amos Thomas, and from 1920 to 1928 with Edward R. Burke. In 1928, Hascall became affiliated with the legal department of Standard Oil company of Nebraska and was tax supervisor. He was a member of the Douglas county and Nebraska State Bar associations.

A republican, he was representative from Douglas county in the Nebraska legislature, 1921-22. He was instructor and lecturer at the University of Nebraska college of medicine on medical jurisprudence. A veteran of World war I, Hascall enlisted in the field artillery, and had served as commander of American Legion post No. 1 in Omaha.

VINCENT C. 'STUB' HASCALL

The Omahan was widely known as international president of the Association of Lions clubs in 1934 and 1935. He served as chairman of the Douglas county American Red Cross from 1938 until the time of his death. He was a member of the executive board of the Campfire Girls of America, the Nebraska Tuberculosis association, and the Nebraska Children's home. From 1914-1918 he was Boy Scout executive, and vice-president of Cornhusker Boys' State.

Hascall had taken all Masonic degrees, and was past master of A. F. & A. M. No. 268, and a member of the Scottish Rite and the Shrine.